All books are arranged from left to right in order of call numbers. There is a label on the side of each shelf, showing the beginning and the ending call numbers of the books on that shelf. Readers can find a book easily with the help of these labels.
Readers can recommend books in the following two ways:

- Fill in the book recommendation form at the reception desk of the library.
- Email to library public mailbox: tsgsuzhou@ruc.edu.cn

The book suggestion should include the following information: title, author, publisher, year of publication, ISBN.

Integrated Databases

EBSCO Serial Databases
EBSCO is one of the world's largest specialist companies providing journal and document ordering, and publishing services. More than half of the journals included are source journals of SCI and SSCI, and are full-text journal databases with relatively complete disciplines in the world. The library has purchased all 11 of the company's databases, of which Academic Search Premier (ASP) and Business Source Premier (BSP) are the two most important sub-databases.

ProQuest Serial Databases
It is an online version of ProQuest Information & Learning, which covers business management, social and human sciences, journalism, science and technology, medicine, finance and taxation. The Academic Research Library (ARL) and the ABI/INFORM® family of databases (ABI) are the two most important sub-databases.
Databases from Publishing Houses

Elsevier ScienceDirect
The library purchased a few subject sub-databases with the full text from 2004 to the present. The subjects include chemistry, computer science, economics and finance, environmental science, social sciences and humanities.

Wiley Online Library
Its subject areas include social sciences and humanities, science, technology and medicine, 100% are peer-reviewed journals, and 66% are included in SCI/SSCI/A&HCI.

Sage Journals
100% of SAGE journals are peer-reviewed, and our library purchased both the current issue database and back issue database.

Springer Journals
The database covers 11 disciplines including natural sciences, engineering, law, and economics. The library has purchased journals for science and engineering, and humanities and social sciences.
Databases from Publishing Houses

Kluwer Online Journals
It provides inquiry services for Kluwer electronic journals, covering more than 20 subject topics such as business administration, chemistry, environmental science, and humanities and social sciences.

Cambridge University Press Journals
It provides more than 300 academic electronic journals published by Cambridge University Press. 70% are included in SCI, SSCI, A&HCI, and most of the online editions of journals date back to 1997.

Oxford University Press Journals
It includes 238 electronic journals published by Oxford University Press, covering six subject field: Medicine, Life Sciences, Mathematics and Physics, Law, Social Sciences, and Humanities.

Other Types of Databases

Dissertations & Theses Databases

PQDT (ProQuest Digital Dissertations & Theses)
It contains the abstract and index of more than 2 million doctoral and master's thesis of more than 700 universities in Europe and America since 1997, as well as the first 24 pages of the original text.

Proquest Dissertation Full-text Database
The database contains the full text of some of the papers in the PQDT database. It is founded by a few Chinese universities, academic research institutions, and public libraries. They jointly purchase foreign excellent dissertations. The dissertations purchased by one member can be shared by other members.
OCLC (Online Computer Library Center) FirstSearch Databases

OCLC FirstSearch contains more than 80 sub-databases, covering almost all subjects and fields. Every year CALIS (China Academic Library & Information System) purchases 12 basic sub-databases and offers them to 105 Chinese universities (including RUC). Among the databases, OCLC FirstSearch--WorldCat Dissertations provides abundant master’s and doctor’s dissertations.

Kiasunomics: stories of Singaporean economic behaviours
Agarwal, Sumit; Ang, Swee Hoon; Sing, Tien Foo
World Scientific Publishing, 2017; English; 288 Pages

“Have you ever wondered whether individuals born in the year of the Dragon are truly blessed? Or why you can't find a taxi when you need one? What about the effects of superstitious beliefs on housing prices? Kiasunomics® explores these issues and more in a series of stories through the lens of Teng, the protagonist of this book. Told in a conversational story-telling style yet grounded on rigorous research, the book explains the influences and outcomes of the decisions we make, using simple economic logic. The book
